EFFORTS MADE TO GET NEW HEARING ON PRORATE DEAL

Citrus Leaders Here Disturbed Over Dropping of Market Plan

Leaders here in the California Fruit Growers Exchange are today studying the possibilities of getting the California - Arizona prorate agreement renewed. Abrupt discontinuance of the agreement last week left the citrus industry leaders perturbed over the future shipments.

Harry B. Harlow, manager of the Ontario-Cucamonga Fruit Exchange, said today everything possible will be done to place the 1938-39 shipments on a regulated basis. The Exchange controls 75 per cent of the citrus production and since the Exchange leaders favor the prorate Mr. Harlow expressed hope of the Exchange getting more representation on the governing board.

In Washington, D. C., next Monday a conference will be held to discuss citrus problems. Charles M. Brown, Redlands, chairman of the growers' advisory committee of the prorate agreement, appointed four delegates to the national conference. J. W. Trapp, first assistant to Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, asked Brown to name delegates.

Attending the conference will be Brown, Charles Hunt of East Highlands; Leroy E. Lyon, Orange county, and Harvey Lynn, Riverside.

The operation of the California-Arizona Marketing Agreement during the past five years has meant millions of dollars in returns to orange growers and the cessation of proration because of opposition of non-Exchange shippers is the most serious thing that could happen to the industry at this time, Paul S. Armstrong, general manager, California Fruit Growers Exchange, said yesterday.

Armstrong issued the following statement of the Exchange position:

"The Exchange will do everything within its power to continue regulation of orange shipments, disrupted this week by action of the Mutual Orange Distributors and certain other independent shippers.

TWO COMMITTEES

"The California - Arizona Citrus Marketing Agreement is operated by two committees—the distribution committee, composed of eight members, which determines the weekly shipments each week, and the Growers Advisory committee, composed of eight growers, which is the governing committee.

"Each of these committees is composed of four members from the Exchange, two from the M. O.

Two Employes May Be Blamed in Death Of Patton Inmate

Two employes of the state hospital at Patton, Lawton E. Meacham and Sheppard F. Jacobs, are today being held in the county jail pending investigation of the death of Elmer C. Williams, 51, a hospital patient.

The two employes were named in the inquest jury's verdict as being responsible for Williams' death. The district attorney's office will determine today if charges will be filed.

The hospital inmate died Wednesday from internal injuries suffered in a beating which the two guards insisted was inflicted by another patient.

Smudging Period Brief as Sunshine Boosts Mercury

Warm, bright sunshine today removed any hint of "smudging" weather that on Saturday and Sunday caused orchard heaters in many groves to be used for the first time since the disastrous 1936-37 freeze.

With low temperature of 22 degrees being reported at some groves, firing was quite general in the lower portions of the citrus district early Saturday morning. Some heating was also required Sunday morning to keep Jack Frost away from the foliage and the citrus fruit. No damage resulted from the brief cold snap.

What Uplanders experienced over the week end was only a slight touch of the cold wave that hit other parts of the west.

Coming without much warning, the low temperatures did not catch local growers unprepared. Millions of gallons of orchard heater oil is in storage and smudging crews were quickly organized.

Today's temperature at 2 p. m. was 80 degrees, just about the same as that recorded on many days throughout the spring and summer. At 7 a. m. today the mercury reading at the Santa Fe station was 47 degrees.

RELIEF PROGRAM TO BE IMPROVED

Grier Sees Step Forward in Victory of "No. 7" at Polls Last Week

Discontinuance of the state relief administration and a more business-like program in handling relief in California is one result of the victory of proposition No. 7 on the ballot at the polls a week ago today.

C. E. Grier, chairman of the county board of supervisors, is particularly pleased with the result. The goal toward which he has exerted much effort is realized. Vitally interested in having only one state-wide relief setup, Mr. Grier had campaigned for an improved method in administering aid to the needy.

Victory of proposition No. 7 will enable the legislature to unify California's relief program under the department of social welfare and the one agency will handle relief to the unemployed as well as relief for the needy aged, unemployable indigents, blind and others, the Uplander explained.

Under the state relief administration, the "SRA" administered funds in aiding the unemployed only, the department of social welfare handling other forms of relief.

The dual relief organization resulted in confusion, hardship among those in need and different standards of relief for employable and unemployable persons, according to Ralph Swing, state senator, also vitally interested in the proposal.

Labor Parties Is Lecture Subject at Chaffey Thursday

"Labor Parties, Here and Abroad" is to be the topic of Dr. T. R. Adams, third speaker in the series of free Thursday evening programs on "World Affairs," on Thursday at 8 p. m., in the Chaffey junior college auditorium.

He has served as New York field representative for the National Adult Education association. As a scholar and historian, Dr. Adam has been prominently identified with the movement for radio education.

32 Years On Same Job Ends With Pension For Wm. May, Watchman

William May has punched his last time clock and has made his last rounds as a night watchman.

Thirty-two years of faithful, conscientious work has won its reward and today the veteran employe of the Upland Citrus association and popular citizen is beginning a life of leisure in retirement. He has been given a pension by the association.

WM. MAY

Within a short time after coming to Upland in 1906 Mr. May was employed by the pioneer citrus group as night watchman. It is his custom to perform his services creditably and to stick to a good job. He has had only two other jobs in his life.

NO LOSS

"I have tried to do my work well and I am proud of the fact that at the packing house there has been no loss by fire or theft," related Mr. May, who resides at the northeast corner of Arrow highway and First avenue.

Only a packing shed was all he had to guard 32 years ago. As more groves came into bearing more facilities were added. Hundreds of cars of fruit are shipped annually by the plant from which Mr. May has retired. Four managers have been in charge of the association during his service.

A. J. Neilson, manager, in announcing the association board's action in retiring Mr. May, highly commended the employe "for his very faithful work and dependable services in looking after our property during all the years."

LONG SERVICE

Only a few other men in the citrus industry have a longer record of service than does Mr. May.

"On coming to Upland I applied for a job and within a few days I was on duty," related the jovial Uplander. "I have missed very, very few days since I started way back in 1906."

Through the many years along the route from his home to the packing house Mr. May, in his characteristic manner, chatted with friends and exchanged stories. One of his greatest enjoyments is a good yarn and now with more leisure time he will mingle more with his friends, "string along" more people with his tales.

Before coming to Upland Mr. May was a glass presser, working for the H. C. Fry Co of Rochester, Pa. He followed this trade for 29 years with this one company. He was born in Steubenville, Ohio.

Girl Scouts Make Visit to Library

Accompanied by Mrs. Paul Adams, 17 members of Upland Girl Scout troop No. 12 visited the Upland public library on a recent afternoon and were shown through all the departments and given information concerning the library equipment and books.

Mrs. Geo. W. West, assistant librarian, who acted as guide, explained the system of classification of books.

Orchard Heating To Be Young's Subject

Latest improvements in orchard heating equipment and practices will be discussed by Floyd D. Young in the Chaffey junior college auditorium at 8 p. m. tomorrow.

His address will be of special interest to all growers. Sponsoring the meeting are the county agricultural extension service and the county farm bureau.

NEW AID IN PEST FIGHT IS COMING

New Insectary Building Nears Completion—Operator Is Employed

With a new county insectary building nearing completion and with Jack F. Pauly employed as an insectary operator, local citrus growers will soon have additional assistance in combatting pests.

Parasitical insects are to be propagated and these will be used to eliminate the groves of pests. The new service was provided by the supervisors after it was pointed out that the parasites could save growers thousands of dollars annually in pest control costs.

Mr. Pauly was formerly employed on the staff of the state citrus experiment station at Riverside.

Mayor George P. Weldon opened the session with a call for nominations to fill the vacancy. Jack Anderson nominated Mr. Peterson and the council vote followed.

$1,000 PAID BY ONTARIO TO AID BIG FLOOD PLAN

Work To Start Soon on Eighth Street Flood Control Project

With Ontario city contributing $1,000 toward the sponsor's cost, actual construction is scheduled to be started soon on a $180,000 flood control and water conservation project along east Eighth street and in Cucamonga wash.

The Ontario council last night voted to pay $1,000 as its share between now and July 1. R. V. Ward, flood control engineer, will supervise the WPA project.

Designed to keep the flood water from rushing on to Ontario, the project calls for placing a deep conduit on Eighth street from Euclid avenue east to the wash. The conduit will be similar in the type of construction to that recently completed on Fifteenth street. It is a major link in the flood control program.

Approved by federal officials, the project will be started just as soon as all details can be completed.

Not enough progress will be made on the project to handle any of flood water this winter, according to reports. It was also emphasized that no water will be diverted onto the wash until check dams have been constructed to conserve the flow.

Fire Call Mix-Up Takes Firemen of Two Cities on Hunt

A freak mixture of fire alarms, occurring twice Friday, sent both the Upland and Ontario firemen on a fruitless search for fire, each time the fire being in the other city.

At 3:20 Friday morning the Upland firemen were called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Sheets, 157 North Third avenue, where fire had broken out in an apartment above the garage. Through a mistake in transmission of the call the Ontario fire department was notified of a fire on Fern street. It was not until several minutes later that the call reached the Upland firemen, who responded quickly and soon extinguished the blaze. The apartment was badly damaged, the kitchen, bathroom and part of the roof being burned.

At 11 o'clock Friday night, evidently through a similar mixup in calls, the Upland firemen were sent on a hunt for a fire on East G street, which the Ontario firemen later found on G street in that city.

A second fire occurring in Upland over the week end damaged a small house on the Paul Bodenhamer grove on West Twenty-first street. The blaze, starting from the chimney at 11:30 Sunday morning, damaged the roof of the house.

New Building for County Authorized If WPA Will Help

To provide additional space for county departments, construction of an office building is virtually assured if the WPA approves the project. The county board of supervisors yesterday tentatively ordered the new building, providing the federal government will share in the cost.

Of one story structure, the new building is planned to provide accommodations for the election department, county library, horticultural commissioner's office and the veterans' service officer's quarters. Site of the building is to be on Mountain View avenue near the welfare building.

Nine small girls in poppy costumes rode in and on the car, two being perched on the fenders and one tiny tot on the radiator. Mrs. Lehman, a World war nurse, wearing her uniform, drove the car and riding with rer was Mrs. I. J. Linkey, president of the unit.

GROUP HOSPITAL INSURANCE PLAN ABOUT TO START

Zach Farmer Will Tell Local Group Thursday of Details in Project

With the object being to make this community the scene of a model group hospitalization insurance program, definite plans for putting the proposed cooperative project into operation will be outlined here Thursday night by Zach Farmer, widely known Southern California civic leader.

Throughout California the movement is growing to offer cooperative medical and hospitalization service and Upland has been chosen by the Associated Hospital Service of Southern California as the first project in the rural communities. Mr. Farmer has been engaged by the hospital service to introduce the cooperative insurance program in the southland.

As manager of the Los Angeles Olympics and of the San Diego exposition, Mr. Farmer has attained national recognition as an organizer and civic leader.

He will speak at an informal meeting in the hospital Thursday night. Those to be present will be representatives of many organizations and firms in the Upland-Ontario district.

Start of the cooperative program here will bring to fulfillment a long - contemplated plan. Start of the plan here will be in keeping with the action taken this week by the Council of the California Medical association. That group has named a committee to set up agencies throughout the state for making medical and hospitalization service available on a monthly payment basis.

Mr. Farmer will outline the details at the meeting Thursday night.

Administration Policies Disapproved

Results of elections throughout the nation last week—with California almost the only exception—served as a warning to the national New Deal administration that its tactics and policies and purges are growing in disfavor at a very rapid rate. Gains made by the Republicans in both houses of the national Congress have resulted in sudden optimism throughout the country because of the trend toward a more sensible attitude by the voters and the indication that the election of a Republican president is far from an impossibility in 1940. With Democrats in Congress opposed to the New Deal policies—and there are many of them—working together with the increased Republican representation at Washington the President is not hereafter going to find it so easy to force his undesirable policies upon the nation.

The election results are unmistakable evidence that the people are tiring of the numerous and unsuccessful experiments carried on during the past six years—they are costing far too much and running the nation farther into debt every day.

During the past few months there seems to have been improvement in the business situation throughout the country with the exception of this part of the nation, where many find themselves in worse condition financially that at any time during the past six or eight years. The improvement, of course, has been the result in no small degree to the vast "pump priming" expenditures and to some degree to the relatively quiet period so far as domestic affairs were concerned. Congress was not in session—and comparatively few crack-pot schemes were being aired. Rumors of new and still more extreme experiments were rare throughout the nation as a whole—and generally speaking the attitude of the government toward business was one of cooperation.

There is a hint in this for our lawmakers, now that the legislative season is just in the offing. American business and industry are ready and eager to go places. They are prepared to spend tremendous sums for expansion and betterment, to reemploy hundreds of thousands of workers, and to provide a profitable and productive place of investment for savings. But this can only be done under sane, stable and reasonable government. Uncertainty is one of the worst enemies of economic progress. It breeds lack of confidence—and lack of confidence means retrogression.

The coming Congress will do well if it attends to essential matters, makes short-shrift of what new "wild-eyed" proposals are presented to it, winds up its affairs as soon as possible, and calls it a day. We have had enough of chaos—as nine long years of depression amply testifies. Today we need more of that atmosphere of peace and quiet that will enable us to go forward in a normal manner.

Chemurgy May Bring Peace

Chemical magic, the world is being told, may succeed where peace pacts and diplomatic proposals have failed—and chemistry may halt the Japanese invasion of China. While this may seem somewhat of a hazy possibility to most of us, we are told it is far from impossible.

The marching hordes of Japan have tramped to war with all the equipment necessary in battle—yet, actually, it is said they have had only one weapon—silk. Japan has no store of the things that make and maintain the toys of Mars—oil, steel, copper, coal and lead. But Japan has been able to buy those things with the money her silk has brought on the American market.

Now, however, a simple combination of chemicals has upset the balance. Artificial silk—strong and lustrous—as perfect as the fragile product of the silk worm—has been perfected by an American company.

Ninety per cent of Japanese silk has been sold to America. Ninety per cent of American-bought silk has gone into women's stockings. The might of Japan actually has marched to war on the silken tread of Ameriean women. Given a substitute for silk, the ladies may now have their silken hose without paying for them in bombed cities and murdered children.

If American women accept the silk substitute, Japan cannot buy food for her machines of war. Without oil and steel, she cannot continue to bring "peace" to China.

From out of the chemical laboratory has come a simple discovery—yet that diseovery may change the history of the East. Silk has taken a million lives. Chemistry has discovered a silk that may save many more than a millon.

Thus the peace which statesmen have failed to bring to the world may come through the scientific research of the chemist—and the cooperation of the American woman in making use of the produet he has developed.

California Makes News

It is a commonplace observation among newspapermen that California makes news. In this state—America's last frontier—are gathered the adventurous, the eager, the nimble-minded who are bold to experiment. In the election just closed, issues on the California ballot engrossed the attention of the entire nation. Here experiments of the venturesome were placed on trial and judged. Here news was made. And the biggest headlines of all recorded the fact that Californians, when it came time to render their verdict, voted sanely and wisely on the extreme and fantastic proposals submitted to them.

California has particular reason for satisfaction in the overwhelming "No" vote which repudiated the Garrison Revenue Bond Act. Less spectacular than some of the other measures, Proposition 13 was no less dangerous. And the vote against it is forceful evidence that the tide has turned against free-handed spending and mounting indebtedness.

Basically, "revenue" bonds are little different from general obligation bonds. Debt is debt—and the taxpayer, in the final analysis, has to pay it. Other states have learned that by sad experience—Illinois, for example, which is wrestling with the problem of a series of bankrupt revenue bond projects—but California, due to the verdict of its voters, has avoided the mistake and has said emphatically "No" to further adventures in squandermania.

The people of this state generally hold the same view as the California Citizens Committee of Bakersfield when it asks this pertinent question: "If the Farm Security Administration is so interested in feeding these poor people (the influx from the dust bowl and other such locations) why doesn't it feed them at home?"

It is said that shoes made of frog skin have made their appearance in Louisiana. Wonder if they croak when they're new—instead of squeaking.

Notes of Society

Business Women Hold Initiation, Enjoy Craft Talks

A variety of interesting features presented during the evening, made the meeting held Thursday night by the Upland Business and Professional Women's club an especially enjoyable event.

The meeting was held in the Upland Woman's club house and began with dinner at 6:45, Mrs. Ernest Tweed Stone, president, presiding.

During the business session Mrs. Vivian M. Santolucito presented the prizes recently awarded in the contest to select a name for the club's new bulletin, "Upla-Monga News" having been selected. Mrs. Una R. Winter, who submitted the name, received first prize and Mrs. Lottie Fuller received the prize for promptness in submitting the first name.

Reports of the Southern district meeting held recently at the Mission Inn in Riverside were made by several members of the club who attended, each one giving an account of some particular phase of the meeting.

The marriage occurred at 8 o'clock in the presence of approximately 350 guests and was performed by the Rev. Alvin C. Burkholder, pastor of the church and an uncle of the bride.

Baskets of beautiful white chrysanthemums against a background of ferns and palms were used in the floral decorations. White cathedral candles in tall candelabra provided illumination for the scene.

Mrs. Chester Gish of Pasadena, formerlly Miss Alta Buckwalter of Upland, served as pianist, playing the traditional wedding marches and the accompaniments.

Preceding the ceremony, Eldon Bert of Upland sang "Because," Miss Lucille Foster of Los Angeles played as a violin solo "At Dawning." A duet, "Pearl of Dawn," was sung by Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Benson of Pasadena, and Miss Harriet Bohen of Upland sang "Triune Prayer."

Leaving Upland early on Friday morning Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Humble, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. E. Coiner of Pomona, spent a pleasant week end on a trip to Death Valley. Entering by way of Baker, Shoshone and Death Valley Junction, they visited most of the important scenic points in the valley and surrounding country, just missing a snow flurry on Dante's View by a few minutes. They were lucky when they visited Scotty's Castle to find "Scotty" himself at home and had the pleasure of being conducted through a portion of the outbuildings by the famous desert man. Ubehebe crater was visited and the Upland folks were awed by the immense hole in the ground. The return journey was made by way of Wild Rose canyon, the old deserted mining town of Ballarat and Trona and the whole journey was enjoyed immensely, although the road from Emigrant Pass to Trona was a "desert" road with lots of second gear work. They arrived home Sunday evening, tired but happy over their interesting trip.

D. and two from the other independent shippers, thus you will see that the Exchange has only 50 per cent of the representation although it markets a much higher percentage of the fruit; the M. O. D. with approximately 10 per cent of the fruit has 25 per cent of the representation; and the remaining shippers with approximately 15 per cent of the fruit have 25 per cent of the representation.

"Since the agreement calls for the concurrence of six of the eight members on any action it is readily seen that the Exchange is powerless to act without the concurrence of two of the non-Exchange members.

NO PROGRAM OUTLINED

"The action last Thursday by the M. O. D. and other independent shippers came out of a clear sky. If any changes were needed in the method of operation or in the agreement itself the proper procedure would be for these representatives to present their proposals for consideration. This was not done and to date we are at a loss to understand what these non-Exchange shippers have in mind.

"The Growers Advisory committee now has an industry elimination plan before it for consideration, presented by H. A. Lynn, an Exchange representative.

"We feel that a declaration of the Exchange's position regarding proration and elimination is necessary so that there can be no misunderstanding:

POSITION OUTLINED

"1. The Exchange is for volume regulation of shipments.

"2. The Exchange is for an equitable plan of industry elimination in seasons of surplus, which means that each grower must stand his share of the burden of elimination on his crop, and which would involve withholding from market the least valuable grades and sizes.

"3. The Exchange believes that volume regulation is necessary whether elimination is practiced or not, because volume prorate is essential to insure shipment each week during the season of a definite quantity of fruit in line with existing demand. It is also the only method by which each grower is given equality of opportunity to supply the market.

"4. We advocated a program of industry elimination this last valencia season and failed to get the support of the M. O. D. and other independent members of the committees. We recommended to Exchange shippers an elimination program early in the season (last May) which was generally followed.

"We took advantage of all outlets for fruit to a greater degree than did the industry as a whole, such as government purchases and diversion programs.

MORE FRUIT MARKETED

"Up to this time the navel crops, under proration, have been marketed without elimination of merhantable fruits and therefore no one can truthfully say that markets have been lost to Florida.

"More fruit has been marketed from California and Arizona under the prorate than ever before. The prices received have been higher than they would have been without regulation of shipments.

"The Exchange stands ready to cooperate on any improvement that can be made in the program. We have the largest crop of citrus fruit in history to market and if we are going to be able to improve returns to growers we need more cooperation within the industry."

CARD OF THANKS

For the kindly assistance and comforting sympathy extended us by many friends at the time of our bereavement, the death of our beloved son and brother, we wish to express our sincere appreciation. Signed: Mr. and Mrs. C. U. Widmer and Family.—adv. 58-1

HOBBYISTS BUILD MODEL RAILROADS

Seventy-five Thousand Engaged in Interesting Pastime, Says Speaker

There are about 75,000 persons in the United States who spend at least part of their spare time at their hobby of model railroad building. That was the statement by Ernest Wangler of Upland, president of the Pomona Valley Model Railway club, in a talk before the Upland Rotary club today noon at the Upland Inn. Stearns Ingalls was program chairman and introduced the speaker.

Until recently headquarters of the club has been in a building on Second avenue in Upland, but the organization has been allotted space in the machinery building of the Los Angeles county fair at Pomona, where the members are now busily engaged in building a model railroad that will be one of the exhibits at the fair next fall.

Mr. Wangler gave the difference between toy railroads and model railroads by stating the latter has a plant for construction and is operated for a purpose, providing a project for spare time activity.

Model railroad equipment is built to scale and the engines, cars, track, etc., are built to scale and the trains really run on the tracks provided for them. Supplementing Mr. Wangler's interesting address Tweed Stone showed moving pictures of model trains in operation, including all atmosphere such as tunnels, bridges, scenery and buildings, the pictures having been arranged by Mr. Wangler and others. Mr. Wangler gave as his subject, "America's Fastest Growing Hobby—Model Railroading."

The program, which includes playlets demonstrating the different phases of work, began at 10 a. m. Luncheon was served at noon, with the program continuing during the afternoon.

The community party, usually held by the P.-T. A. during the Christmas season, will be given this time in the early part of January.

The program, arranged by Mrs. Theresa Collier, opened with three selections by the Girls glee club.

The speaker was Miss Hester Mackay, assistant county school nurse, who told of the county's health organization and the work it does in preventing disease and correcting physical defects through its clinics held for examinations of the children.

Panthers In Title Clash; Tigers-Pomona

JAYSEE HOST TO SAN BERNARDINO

O. E. League Title at Stake As Two Teams Meet at Chaffey Friday

Two of the most powerful grid teams ever to meet in the junior college conference will face each other Friday night when Chaffey and San Bernardino battle for the Orange Empire conference championship.

Both undefeated, both being powerful on defense and offense and both having strong reserves, the two teams face each other on an even basis. While San Bernardino has been more impressive in its wins, any advantage the Indians may have is offset by the fact that the game will be on Chaffey's field amid home surroundings and home atmosphere.

WIN AT SANTA ANA

The Panthers kept their record 100 per cent in a 14 to 7 victory at Santa Ana in a thrilling game Friday. Statistically lucky to win, Chaffey scored early in the game on a blocked punt and in the fourth quarter on a series of line plays.

It was a case of Santa Ana getting more yardage and displaying more offense but not being able to make the most of the opportunities as did Chaffey.

San Bernardino was winning another game quite easily while Chaffey was having a time with Santa Ana. The Indians put on a scoring spree, 27 to 6, with Fullerton.

MAY GET TITLE

Can Chaffey outscore San Bernardino?

If so, the Panthers will take their first gridiron championship. Coming from the bottom to the top in the conference is quite a jump all in one season. But the Panthers can finish on top if they scalp the visiting Indians. They can get the championship if the front line and the blockers can get Terry, Reynolds or Shoji beyond the line of scrimmage and into the open.

One of the big troubles at Santa Ana was the way the Panther speeders were kept bottled up.

And so it is going to be a real battle that will begin on the Panther field at 7:30 o'clock Friday night.

This week's practices will add further polish to the Panther attack and get the chargers in trim for the season's most crucial test.

Local Eleven Makes Good Grid Record

Football season at the Upland junior high school is nearing a close and an enviable record has been made by the local gridders under the tutelage of Coach Ed Dean.

In three meetings, the Upland team has defeated the Chaffey frosh three times and the Fontana junior high school has been a victim of the local team.

In their last meeting here, Fontana and Upland tied, 6 to 6. Dean's team is at Colton this afternoon for another clash with the freshmen and sophomore aggregation.

The "cockcrowing" hour in Biblical times meant a specific hour, beginning at 3 o'clock in the morning.

Thursday Date for Elks Benefit Show With Nine Big Acts

The annual charity show of the Ontario Elks lodge, a big entertainment each year, will eclipse all previous shows this year and will be staged at the Ontario junior high school auditorium Thursday evening, Nov. 17, beginning at 8:15.

Nine headline vaudeville acts have been booked for the event, all having been "hand picked" from the numerous Fanchon & Marco stars. They are clean, thrilling and humorous and will provide an evening of fine entertainment, at the same time providing a fund for a worthy cause.

The Elks lodge is made up of members throughout the entire West End and the net proceeds of the show will go into the relief fund to be distributed to needy persons in the district. Last year the Elks distributed over 1500 toys, also candy and nuts to the underprivileged children, besides Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets for needy families. Two Christmas parties were also staged for unfortunate children—one at Cucamonga and one in the lodge rooms.

For Thursday night's benefit show tickets in Upland may be secured at the following business houses: J. J. Atwood Co., Alan A. Couch, Roy Creighton and Mehl Hardware Co. Seats can be reserved at the Ford Music Co. in Ontario.

W. R. C. Will Meet Thursday Afternoon

Final arrangements for the bazaar and food sale to be held Friday and Saturday will be made during the regular meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps Thursday, it is announced by Mrs. Dwight F. Gorham, president.

The corps meeting will be held in the American Legion hall in Ontario and will open with a contributed dish luncheon at noon. Members are to bring their table service.

During the afternoon session the routine business will be transacted and the greater portion of the time will be devoted to the bazaar preparations. All fancy work pieces are to be brought to the meeting to be marked for the sale. Besides the bazaar articles, there will be a parcels post table and home cooked food booth. The bazaar will be held at 110 West A street, Ontario.

TRADITIONAL GAME WILL END SEASON

Rivals Will Battle on Tiger Field on Friday Afternoon

In their annual clash with all of the color and traditional rivalry keener than ever, Chaffey and Pomona high school grid teams will square off at each other Friday afternoon.

At 3 p.m. the two fighting, charging teams will face each other on the Chaffey field.

While the season has not been outstandingly successful for the Tigers so far, the year can be brought to a very popular close by a Pomona defeat.

Few teams have rated the top spot more clearly than does the Pomona eleven right now. Speed, deception and sound blocking and tackling—Pomona has just about everything.

Nevertheless, the Tigers have the will to knock over their traditional foes. So, it's going to be a game.

Chaffey trounced Redlands in the Armistice day bill, 8 to 0. In a none-too-brilliant display, the Tigers' victory was the second in succession and put Chaffey in the proper setup to spring an upset.

With Hickcox, Schonert and Blatnick in top form, the Tiger ball carriers will be ready to go places behind the biggest front wall in the C. B. L. Gradually improving since a slow start, the Tigers are in their best form for the last game of the season.

EYE OPENER! With all its extra value, this Buick sedan lists at $51 less than last year!

IT makes the eye glad and grateful—you spot that the instant your gaze takes in this sparkling Buick for 1939.

It's sleek and swift and businesslike, lean and clean in every line, the trim bonnet low-set, the graceful upper-structure light-and-airy looking, neat and fine.

Will you step in, please, and look it over?

Why, it's almost like being in an open car, with the outlook you've got here!

The long nose tapers quickly out of eyeway, the pillars modestly retire to the background, overhead stop lights drop into easy vision—ahead, to right, to left, you can see!

The ruler will tell you there are as much as 413 added square inches of safety plate glass in this Buick, and these inches are placed where they count.

It has a lot to do with making Buick beautiful, this grand expanse of openness!

And like "catwalk-cooling": radiators low where air pressure is greatest—and the lines of the bonnet: broad, clean, aerodynamically better—Buick's stepped-up visibility both sets a pattern and fills a function.

So take a good look into its bigger, better, broader outlook. It's one thing among many that Buick's got that you'll want in your next automobile.
